NEW YORK, Oct. 2.-Friday's tie game between the New Yorks and Detroits was played off to-day, and the visitors succumbed to the home club. George pitched for the Giants, and he was steady and effective. In the ninth inning Foster, in attempting to score, ran against Bennett's right arm, the force of the collision throwing Foster several feet. Bennett's arm was burt and Ganzel took his place. Score: Earned run-New York, 1. Two-base hit-Foster.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.-For eight ennings Casey pitched great ball to-day and the men behindhim put up a strong fielding game. He weakened somewhat in the ninth, however, and the Pittsburgers did some lively hitting. Galvin was not at his best, and his bases on balls were both numerous and costly. Score:

ST. LOUIS, 8; KANSAS CITY, L Sr. Louis, Oct 2 -St. Louis and Kansas City played a pretty game to-day, but, as usual when these clubs meet, St Louis had a walk-over. The game was one of those transferred from Kansas City. Score:

CINCINNATI, 3; LOUISVILLE, 1. Louisville, Oct. 2.-Louisville was beaten by superior batting and fielding. Mullane, without apparent effort, mystified the home team so they got only three hits. Hecker pitched in good form, but every error counted toward Cincionati's run-getting. Cook was in bad condition. Nicol and Mullane did the best work for Cincinnati. Raymond and Tomney fielded notably well. Score: Stolen bases-Weaver, Browning, Nicol, Mullane. Double plays—Esterbrook and Tomney; Kappel, Nicol, and Keenan. First base on balls—Mack. Struck out -Reilly (2), Kappel, Wolf, Esterbrook, Hecker, Ray-mond, Tomney, Cook.

Base-Ball Notes.

The Hoosiers play in Philadelphia to-day, tomorrow and Friday. Indianapolis has now won one more and lost one more game than Washington, which gives her a slight advantage in percentage. Pitcher Boyle was summoned East yesterday to join the club. It is to be hoped, now that this hard-working player has rejoined the team, that Indianapolis will keep in seventh place. Racing at Latonia. CINCINNATI, Oct. 2 .- The third, or, according to the programme card, second regular day at

MR, MILLS'S MISSTATEMENTS.

A Blg Iron Manufacturer Makes Him a Liberal Offer to Prove Them.

In the Globe-Democrat of Sept 26, Mr. Mills is reported as having said in his East St. Louis speech of Tuesday evening last, that "a ton of pig-iron to-day is worth $10 in England," and that "it costs about $2 freight to bring it from Liverpool to New York, making about $12. Then there is a duty on pig-iron of $6.72. That makes $18.72, and that is in the neighborhood of the present value of a ton of pig-iron." He then argues that that establishes the price of pig-iron here to be $18.72, and that the owner of domes-tie pig-iron puts the $6.72 duty "in his little pocket," and asks the question, "Why don't they go and give that $6.72 to the workman?" He further says he can trace that $6.72 to the owner's pocket, and makes a proposition to his hearers that if they can show him how he can get that $6.72 out of the pockets of the manufacturer of pig iron, and put it in the pockets of his laborer, he will vote for Harrison and Morton.

etc. Now I was spared the infliction of listening to Mr. Mills's misstatements, and thus not being one of his hearers. I presume his proposition may not be open to met but I feel that such statements should not be allowed to go out to the voters and be accepted by them as facts, when they are untrue; and now that voters may judge if they are facts or not, I will make a proposition to Mr. Mills-that if it shall be the misfortune of the United States to have Grover Cleveland re-elected this fall, and with him this tariff question, I agree, so far as my own and other resident owners of our corporation are concerned (which amounts to a large part of the capital), to accept from Mr. Mills in cash at the rate of $1.50 per ton profit (being one-fourth the duty his bill provides) on all the pig iron our furnace produces during the year 1889. I have no doubt that all our stockholders would be willing to join us in this proposition, but many of them reside in the East, and not having communicated with them on the subject, I do not now include them in my proposition, but to show the absolute falsity of his statement that the manufacturer pockets the $6.72, I will agree for our company to accept $1.50 per ton form Mr. Mills in cash as profit on all the pig iron we have sold this year, and to further refute the statement that $18.72 is the price of pig from I will say that we have sold thousands of tons of it this year at less than $15 per ton on cars at St. Louis; and been forced thereto by the competition of the Southern furnace companies, in whose interest his bill seems to me to be framed, for the reason that while he takes but 72 cents per ton off the duty on pig iron, of which the South manufactures largely, and little or none of it is suitable for manufacturing steel rails by reason of too high phosphorus, he takes 86 per ton off steel rails, of which the South makes little or none, but of which the North makes millions of tons yearly.

It is quite evident that Mr. Vest's recent declarations regarding the extermination of protected industries will follow, if the leaders of the Democracy are permitted to carry out their plans.

Anyone engaged in manufacturing pig iron knows that outside of a small royalty per ton to the owner of the ore in the ground and (in the case of charcoal iron) a small compensation to the owners of timberlands for timber to make the charcoal from (in our case it is 80 to 10c per cord of wood), the cost is practically all labor, beginning with the mining of the ore, and followed by the labor in its transportation, and putting it and the fuel into the furnace and handling the product as it comes out; and if Mr. Mills was practically engaged in the business his regard for truth should restrain him from making such erraneous statements as his apparent ignorance of the subject has led him to do, even though the promulgation of such misstatements might tend to gain votes for his party that otherwise they might not get. We mean business, and our proposition is open for acceptance by Mr. Mills any time between now and Nov. 1 next, and he should either put up or shut up on the Work of the Freedom Baptists.

Correspondence of the Indianapolis Journal, WAVELAND, Ind., Oct. 1 .- The forty-eighth annual session of the Freedom Baptist Association was held recently at the Friendly Grove Baptist Church in Parke county. The session was called to order by the moderator, Rev. W. H. Cartwright, of Steam Corner, and Rev. J. W. Porter, of Ladoga, preached the opening sermon, from Jude 3. A collection of $4.50 was taken up for the interest of the aged ministers' home. The Bethel Church was dropped from the roll. The election of officers resulted in the choice of Rev. W. H. Cartwright as moderator. and W. J. Miles as clerk and treasurer. The following representatives from corresponding bodies were in attendance: Curry's Prairie Association, Rev. C. B. Allen and Wm. Woodsmall; Tippecanoe Association, Rev. H. Mc-Calip and G. P. Fuson; Judean Association, Rev. Allen Hill. The Journal and Messenger was represented by Rev. G. P. Fuson; Franklin College, by Rev. N. Carr; Indiana Baptist, by Rev. G. H. Elgins; State convention, by Rev. Allen Hill; Missionary Union, by Rev. S. M. Stinson, D. D. The following are the messengers from the Freedom Association to other similar bodies: Curry's Prairie, H. B. Smock; White Lick, Rev. S. K. Fuson; Tippecance, Rev. L. F. Galey; State convention, T. Easley and W. J. Miles; Judson, Rev. J. M. Kendall. It was agreed that next year the association would meet at the Marshall Church, in Parke county, on Sept. 1, 1889. The introductory sermon is to be preached by Rev. W. T.

The committee on the state of religion reported that, taken as a whole, the churches of the association are on a decline. The American Baptist Home Mission Society was organized fifty-six years ago, and has done great work. The sum of $85,600 was expended in settling churches in the State during the early days. The society has three departments-missionary, educational and church edifice. Last year the society expended $500,000. I aided in supplying 700 missicnaries, aided 19 schools, and helped to erect 62 churches. Almost seventy-six years ago the first American Baptist missionary landed on Burmah's soil. At the present time there are 1,800 preachers in the field, and 1,300 churches, with 127,208 members. The treasurer reported that $36 had been received and paid out for various expenses during the past year. During the past year 61 persons had been babtized within the bounds of this association, and in the association there are 24 churches; 12 hold Sunday-schools the year around, and 3 during the summer. There is also a Sunday-school at Rockville. There is an average attendance of 850 scholars. The Woman's Baptist Home Mission Society and the Woman's Baptist Foreign Mission of the West have headquarters in Chicago, and in this association there are three societies. The death roll during the past year numbers twenty-three, as follows: Brown's Valley, two women; Bridgeton, four women; Freedom, three women and one man; Friendly Grove, three men and one woman; Goshen, two women; Mt. Olive, one man; New Discovery, one woman; New Maysville, one death; Salem, one woman; Steam Corner, one man and one woman, The following are the churches in the Freedom Association: Brown's Valley, Bridgeton,

Dana, Freedom, Friendly Grove, Goshen, Friendship, Heidle's Prairie, Harveysburg, Ladogs, Mill Creek, Marshall, Mt. Olive, New Discovery, New Maysville, New Market, Prairie Creek, Salem, Tennessee Valley, Union, Zion (First and Second), Carbon. At these churches during the past year, there were sixty-one persons baptized, thirty-four received by letter, six by letter, six by relation, one by restoration, fifty-five by letter, thirty-seven excluded, twentythree died. Membership last year was 1,248, and the present membership is 1,294. The following are the ministers now supplied, with their postoffice addresses: Brown's Valley, Rev. J. M. Kendall; Bridgeton, Rev. H. C. Lieton, Rockville; Freedom, Rev. W. T. Cuppy, Waveland; Friendly Grove, Rev. L. F. Galey, Waveland; Goshen, Rev. A. S. Mayhall, Ladoga; Friendship, Rev. American Board of Foreign Missions. CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 2 .- The Seventy-ninth annual meeting of the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions met at Music Hall this afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Dr. R. S. Storrs, of Brooklyn, N. Y., presiding. A large audience was in attendance and the usual array of distinguished and venerable men were on the stage. After devotional services, Rev. Dr. Alden, secretary, read the annual report of the prudential committee. It showed that eleven corporate members have died. Seven missionaries and twenty-two assistant missionaries, about the annual average for the last fourteen years, have been sent out. Receipts from donations have been $394,568, an amount larger than in any preceding year An annual amount of $150,000 additional from 753; enrolled, 7,652; average present at opening, 4,525; average present at close, 5,867; number of schools holding teachers' meetings. 34; number regular sources will soon be needed. Langdon S. Ward, treasurer, readla detailed statement of receipts and expenditures. Rev. D. N. G. Clarke, secretary, read the report of the remaining missions, ten in number, in papal penny collection, $2,185.22; number of conferences held, 30; number of meetings without a lands, European Turkey, India and Japan. There is progress and growth at nearly every point. The success is embarrassed for want of more adaquate support at home. The secretaries united in asking for a reinforcement of forty ordained missionaries, nine physicians and thirty single missionaries. The number of ordained and assistant missionaries from America is 472. The number of native pastors, preachers, teachers and other helpers is 2,135. In the 336 churches there are 30,546 members, of whom 4,338 were added during the year, a larger number than for any of the fifty preceding years. The whole number, from the first, is 105,4s7. The whole number of pupils in seventeen theological seminaries and station classes is 251. The males in fifty-nine colleges and high-schools number 3,947; females in fifty girls' boarding-schools, 3,068; and pupils in 892 common schools, 34,855. In all there are 42,733 under instruction.

Notwithstanding the disminished attendance, compared with previous years, the meeting promises to be harmonious, and one of deep interest. This evening Rev. Henry Hopkins, D. D., of Kansas City, Mo., delivered the annual sermon. Later on Dr. Storrs was tendered an informal reception, at the Stillman. The meeting will close on Friday.

Why Dr. Leonard Supports Harrison. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journau A careful review of the conditions, and the great issues involved in the result of the election on the 6th of next November constrains me to make the following statement: It is known to you, and to a large proportion of the electors of Indiana and other States, that since 1869, and especially since the nomination of Peter Cooper, in 1876, I have been identified with the National party, and in expressing the following views I do not find it necessary to relinquish or take back any position or statement which I have maintained in more than a thousand lectures and a great number of written articles upon subjects so closely interwoven and of so much importance in the fiscal condition of our country, namely, the payment of the Nation's obligations in strict accordance with the spirit and letter in which those obligations were created, and the protection, at the same time, of the Nation's money. A nation is but the aggregation of men associated together in solemn compact. The interest of the Nation the interest of each individual. If the Nation be rich and prosperous, the people composing it partake of and and enjoy the benefits. So long as it is in debt, so long is it a slave to the extent it is made to pay tribute, and the people suffer thereby. Provision must be made for the payment of its debts, and at the same time its money, the circulation of life's current in the body-politic, must be protected. Our revenue laws are being assailed by one of the political parties, and this assault involves the means devised and used to carry the Nation through one of the most gigantic rebellions of history. The assault is made upon the subter-fuce of reducing the surplus. To my mind the reduction of the revenue in the manner proposed by the Mills bill, as estimated by its author, about $70,000,000, is a part of a great conspiracy to prevent the payment of the national debt, and to render it absolutely necessary to do one of two things—fund the debt into long interestbearing bonds or repudiate the Nation's obligations by taking from our shores our money, that measures all value, labor and the products of labor, thus reducing the wages of laborers in the ratio that our circulating medium is contracted as our money appreciates in value. England knows but one money that measures value-gold. All our balances must therefore be paid to England in gold bullion or its equiva-lent measured in gold. With the Mills bill in force we reduce our revenue, we throw open our gates and invite absolute ruin and pauperization of the Nation, and put ourselves at the mercy of the money power of England-that power which has ruised Ireland and all other countries around which she has wound the coils of free trade. Ricardo, in his Political Economy, laid down the cardinal doctrine, and it is not denied by any political economist that I know of, that the volume of money-all things being equal-governs the price of labor and the prodrevenues upon the principle of free trade-or a step in that direction-and you invite, nay, bid welcome, to our shores the despoilers of our Nation's wealth, bringing to our shores the cheap products of the pauper labor of factory, mine and field, compelling the laborers of America to meet on a common level the toilers in factory, mine and field of England. Nay, worse. You bid them load down their vessels and bear from our shores our gold produced by the labor of our toilers from the rock-bound shores of Maine to the beautiful Pacific washing our western shore. To my mind no argument can be stronger in favor of protection than the protection of our money. Every shipinevitable result will be that gold at once begold. The more goods imported the wider they load of goods takes away our money (gold) that measures value. Continue this policy and the comes more valuable. Silver, greenbacks and banking currency in their value bid farewell to glide apart from each other, and deeper and darker becomes the chasm of our woes. Gold becomes scarcer in the payment of English manufactures, and in the same relation it becomes scarcer it becomes dearer in America. Land depreciates, the now busy marts of trade in this country are clothed in sackcloth mourning, tramps are multiplied, the wails of American borers are heard everywhere. England becomes the mistress of our financial interests, as she is wherever her poison vine of free trade has been allowed to fasten itself on the body-politic. Every importation of English goods-the product of her cheap labor-must take the place of just so much of the production of American labor. Necessarily, therefore, the power of American labor to produce money must, in the same ratio, be reduced. It is burning the candle at both ends by shipping out our gold, and reducing the power of the wage-worker to earn money. I can imagine of no scheme so certain to invite financial ruin, destroy the equilibrium of our currency, and supplant an apparent surplus by a deficit. There is no surplus so long as we have a dollar of outstanding interestbearing debt. That debt flargely held by the foreign power should be anticipated, and paid just as fast as our revenues accumulate, instead of enacting a policy which breaks down our great system of internal revenue and source of our prosperity by striking at the primary source of wealth, viz., the wage-workers. Holding these views, I cannot but look with deep concern upon the insidious efforts of the advocates of free trade, however much it is sugar-coated, believing that the protection of American industries is the protection of the life blood of the nation-money. I shall most cheerfully support Harrison and Morton for the highest position in the gift of the American people. I ask a candid, unprejudiced consideration and recon-

There were fifty cases of diphtheria reported, fifteen of which proved fatal. It was the worst month in the year for consumptives, twenty-one deaths occurring. Largest in the World

In the department of baking powder and flavoring extracts the Price Baking Powder Co. of New York, Chicago and St. Louis is the largest in the world. Hundreds of tons of the crystals of cream of tartar, direct from the grape vineyards of France, are annually used in Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, and the entire product of a large Mexican grower of vanilla beans is consumed every year in Dr. Price's Extract of Vanilla. This immense business is accounted for by the purity and excellence of their productions.

THE SWEETEST AND MOST NUTRITIOUS

AN ARTIST'S EXHIBITION.

The Attractive Pictures to Be Seen in One of the Indianapolis Studios.

There were a large number of visitors yesterday at Mr. Brazington's studio in the Ingalls Block, inspecting the attractive exhibit now opened to the public. While there are several excellent crayon portraits in the number, including those of Judge Finen, Master John Holliday and Harry Williamson, now a student at Munich and a warm friend of the artist, the chief attraction to the visitor is a half dozen beautifully executed water-colors. In two morning effects Mr. Brazington has depicted with great naturalness that frosty mist which rises from the earth early on a cool morning. It is not dense enough for a fog, and the delicate distinction and gray color is brought out with good effect. . This miety atmosphere is depicted in both, but one differs from the other in its solitude, the only evidence of animal life being a glimpee of birds hovering over trees in the background. The other picture represents a scene near the artist's farm home in Wabash county, and an oil painting of it, executed by him, has been pronounced his best production. In the foreground is the bright green grass, refreshed by a heavy dew, from which the mists are rising. In the middle distance are several Lombardy poplars, between the branches of which can be seen the fleecy white clouds, such as dot the sky on a summer morning. In the distance, partly hidden by the trees, can be seen the cot tage, from a chimney of which curls the smoke that tells the farmer's early breakfast is on the way. These pictures are the property of Mr. Henry Rogers and Mr. Alfred Potts. Another water-color-the representation of a typical sugar camp. It is not a new camp, with modern improvements, but one built by an old settler, of boards of an unequal length, where boards are used, logs that are stuck together with mud. a chimney that would be a good companion piece to Joe Jefferson's hat in the play of "Rip Van Winkle," and is built of old limestone and mud. Around about are sugar trees, with red buckets at their feet, and oak and beech trees, which have not been stripped of their foliage by three months of winter, but whose leaves are brown, or have been bleached to a color that is nearer gray. In addition to these Mr. Brazington has a pencil sketch of a scene on Pogue's run, in the Arsenal grounds, which is so well finished that it is mistaken by many to be an etching. The artist has supplied a little more nature than is contained in his pictures by the addition of decorations to his studio in the way of pot plants, vines, corn stalks, wild-cherry branches and the like, which are tastefully arranged. The exhibition will close on Saturday.

AMUSEMENTS.

ENGLISH'S OPERA-HOUSE-"FASHIONS." "Fashions," Grattan Donnelly's latest bit of nonsense, was presented before a good audience at English's Opera-house last night. It is of the same class as "Natural Gas," Mr. Donnelly's other popular success, and is replete with fun and good music. The author remarks of "Fashions," "The world loves to laugh. The author has no higher purpose in view in the play than to humor this pleasing way of the world." That portion of the world that cannot laugh at "Fashions" is to be found among the unfortunate ones who are blind and deaf mutes. 'It is but a jumble of nonsense. produced by a company of very clever specialty performers who furnish the amusement in their own way. The singing of Miss Hilda Thomas, an Indianapolis lady and a popular favorite here, is of a quality seldom heard outside of more pretentious musical productions. and each of her vocal selections was warmly encored. The Jeromes, Charlie Seamon, George Murphy, the Irwin sisters, Lillie LaVerde, and other popular favorites comprise the membership of the company, and each is deserving of the warm reception accorded them by last night's audience. Mr. Seamon and Miss LaVerde dance exceptionally well, and the Dutch character part taken by Mr. Murphy is one of the hits of the performance. Fashions will be seen again this evening and at two performances to-

"Muldoon's Picnic" is entertaining large audiences at the Park, and will fill out the week, there being two performances daily. No truer representation of Southern life and the conditions of slavery has been put on the stage than in "The White Slave," Bartley Campbell's play, which will be seen at the Grand to-morrow night and the rest of the week. It will be put on the stage with special scenery and mechanical effects, and will be interpreted by a strictly first-class company. Seats are now on sale for the engagement.
